GUPPY WRITES A BIOGRAPHY - - - -

Class History

The third day of September, 1935, is a day which will long be remembered by all members of Creston High School, for on that day the class of '39 entered high school.

We will have to admit that we were at first a little bewildered and shy in the presence of so many dignified and older pupils, but we soon recovered and became adapted to this new life.

Our class of thirty-three members was permitted to organize. Whom did we elect but that bashful little blond, Jay Lehman, for our president; Zella Scholl, vice president; Bernice Meyer, secretary and treasurer; and Miss McCoy, a much needed adviser. We chose green and white as our class colors. The next thing of importance was the sack rush with the sophomores, which we are very proud to say we won. An initiation party was given for us on September 13; everybody thought we were so small that the initiation was rather mild, however, the party was a great success. This life was so different and exciting that before we knew it, May had come and our first year in high school was ended.

In the fall we came back, not feeling so shy and unimportant. We found that Raymond Lee and Evelyn Eby were not with us, but we had two new members, Raymond Weahry and John Jacquet, so we still had our big class of thirty-three. We again elected officers, as we learned was the custom to do every year. This time Jack Plank was elected to lead our class and Jay Lehman became his assistant; Bernice Meyer was again elected secretary and treasurer. Mr. Gattshall kindly consented to be adviser. On September 11 we had another sack rush, this time with the freshmen. Again we won. The outstanding event of that year was the local one-act play contest. We shared honor for first place with the freshmen. We helped our school that year by supplying some good athletes, and everyone seemed to enjoy high school life very much.

Once more September came but we were very sorry to find that our class roll had decreased to twenty-nine. Raymond Campbell, John Jaquet, Marjorie Double and Mona Carnes had left us. Later in the year Reba Woodward's leaving reduced the number to twenty-eight. We were very much surprised to see that our high school had increased in size, the seventh and eighth grade had joined us to make a junior high. Our class organized again, with no changes except Betty Perram to serve as secretary and treasurer.

The time for us to get our class sweaters came and we just could not agree on the color we wanted. We argued about a week and then decided on brown and orange (we wanted to be different; I wonder if we were). Jack Plank and Jay Lehman represented our high school in the county declamation contest. Jack won second place and Jay stood very high. Our class was again well represented in athletics this year.

Our class play, "Lady Spitfire" (with the help of Mr. Frey), was a real success. We earned more than enough money from it to give the Seniors a very nice banquet. The ladies of the Jackson Presbyterian Church served the dinner after which we enjoyed a show at Schine's Theater in Wooster. By the end of this exciting year we were all ready for a vacation.

Coming to school in the fall as Seniors, we felt very dignified to be able to occupy the seats in the back of the study hall. Mr. Frey had organized a student council for the high school and we elected Clayton Shankland and James Miracle as members of it from our class. We were very glad to see that we had two new members, Robert Fetzer and Donald Boyes, thus making a class roll of thirty. Officers were elected as usual: Jay Lehman, president; Jack McGuff, vice president; Bernice Meyer, treasurer; Frances Blough, secretary; and Mr. Gattshall still our adviser.

We will not have thirty to graduate after all, because Nylah Schmollinger has dropped out.

Our class play "Spring Fever" came in November this year. Mr. Frey again coached us to help make it a success. Our class almost dominated the basketball team this year. With the help of the cheerleaders, Betty Zehner, Shirley Romich, and Nina Lehman, the games were all very interesting. The tournament was very exciting, but it did not turn out so well for us. Again Jack Plank and Jay Lehman represented our class in the county declamation contest.

We are very busy this year. We are trying to edit the best annual that has been published in Creston High School. We are also planning our trip to Washington. To earn money for our trip, we sold Christmas cards, sold candy and ice cream at the basketball games, and sponsored the Canaan Grange lyceum play. Our treasury is increasing nicely.

We chose the white carnation for our class flower and "Push, pull, or get out of our way" for our motto. We decided to change our class colors to blue and white and to wear blue and white caps and gowns for Commencement week.

We have done our best these four years in high school and have been well represented in athletics, literary contests, and music.

Now our last year is over, and it has been a happy one. I am sure that there is not one person who does not once in a while have time to feel a little sad to think that his high school days are over. We want you to get along well without us; but we hope that we will be remembered for many years by members of the Creston High School.

BETTY PERRAM.

AND TELLS A TALE----

Class Prophecy

I wonder what comes next.

It's the year nineteen hundred and fifty-two,
The grass is green and the sky is blue.
I wonder what became of those classmates of mine,
We who graduated in thirty-nine.
Put come with me and we'll take a trip—
To various parts of the earth we will skip.

First of all we find that mechanical wizard Bill Zehner to be a widely known road constructor. He is busily engaged paving the Canaan roads.

Traveling a little farther south, we see that Frances Haley is one of the best teachers at Ohio State University.

Don't laugh too much but there is an entirely sad situation with Junior Spitler. It seems that Junior was married and life was not panning out the way it should so he ran away to join the circus. He became a lion tamer to get out of his wife's clutches.

Creston is rapidly growing into a beautiful city. It boasts of a new hospital with a handsome young surgeon in charge. Yes, it is Donald Keltz, and his pretty assistant is none other than Frances Blough. Coming out of the hospital and wandering down the street our attention is focused on a building where a pert little brunette sits in a box office; we recognize her to be Zella Scholl. Our surprise is even greater when Zella tells us that Jack McGuff is the manager of this palatial establishment.

Before going on to New York City we stop a minute or two in Cleveland. What good work these Government men are doing. Among them is Robert Fetzer holding a very important position. See, there he is pushing that wheel barrow around for W. P. A. On Euclid Avenue the name of I. J. Fox Furriers, after being bought out by an old schoolmate, Charles Wolf, has been changed to the Wolf Wolverine Inc. Upon our arrival in New York, to our astonishment we find that Bernice Meyer successfully passed an audition to join with the Metropolitan Opera Company. On the shores of the old Atlantic Raymond Weahry is the prize beachcomber.

The three boy musketeers of C. H. S. are not in touch or quite as chummy as they had been. Since each of them is doing something which he thought was quite out of the ordinary, they broke up. James Miracle is Wayne County's newly elected sheriff; and Arthur Mumaw has a place in Yale as an English professor; Gene McKelvey directs that new sing band on the radio, widely known as "Gene and His Jelly-Bean Jitters."

In Canada we read to our surprise that Max Bowman has just been appointed head of the Royal Mounted Police Force.

The western part of the United States is buzzing with excitement for it is here that Hazel Feeman and Donald Boyes are making history with their ranches. Bill Huffman was with them for a short time and then decided to tour Europe and when Hazel last heard of him he was a gigolo in France and really having a hard time making a living.

Jack Plank changed his mind and did not follow in his father's footsteps but is in the Orient as a very famous veterinarian and is well liked by the natives. Now Betty Perram, not wishing to go there, stayed in the United States and is happily sewing clothes for people who have a hard time buying them elsewhere. Betty finds this work to be prosperous.

Harold Krabill is stationed in Panama. Since Harold is Captain of the latest steamer he is waiting there for further orders from Washington, D. C. Jay Lehman, Secretary of Navy, needing a holiday went to a little town in Georgia and wanting some good books and novels to read took a walk to the store. Jay had hardly stepped inside the door when he was greeted by a cheery "hello." Looking up rather startled he recognized Ruth Miller, the owner. After a lengthy talk Jay left, and soon was on a plane homeward bound only to discover that the smiling air stewardess had once been in the class of thirty-nine; her name, Eva Gantz.

Bill Knepp at the present time is located in San Francisco where he is on tour, being noted for his extremely graceful dancing and a toe dance that no one has ever been able to imitate thus far.

Clayton Shankland is not far away (Los Angeles) trying to be a good salesman for the Roles Royce Inc. while his former car is on display with other rare models of the past century. Also in Hollywood we find Bernice Bowman who advises just the right things for the stars to wear.

In far-off Egypt we come upon a lady travelling all by herself and enjoying the trip immensely. Underneath that veil is the face of Norma Kinch. Norma had inherited a great fortune and was spending it by visiting the most interesting places in the world.

My love of history in high school inspired me to gather material old and new for the printing of these books. Since the above data with a few other important factors will be in the newest edition of history books we hope that it will make more interesting studying for the future history students. IRMA NASH.

Class Will

We, the class of 1939, of Canaan Township High School of Creston, Wayne County, Ohio, being of sound mind and memory and being mindful of the certainty of our departing from our present sphere into the great future, do hereby declare this to be our last will and testament. All former documents are hereby declared null and void.

ARTICLE I

Section 1. To the members of the faculty for their kind and generous help in our time of need and in sincere appreciation of their interest and cooperation with the class of 1939, we bequeath our best wishes for their future success.

Section 2. Mindful of the material the faculty has to work on in the next few years, we also bequeath them our greatest sympathy.

ARTICLE II

Section 1. To the juniors we leave our senior dignity, all senior privileges which they haven't used already, and the pleasure (?) of publishing an annual.

Section 2. To the sophomores we leave all the wisdom, knowledge and experience we have gathered during our stay in high school. We know it will be put to good use.

Section 3. To the freshmen we leave any extra credits we may have. They'll come in handy.

Section 4. Since the 7th and 8th grades are "under age", they are ineligible to any bequests.

Section 5. We, the class of 1939, leave Creston High School minus 29 of the most brilliant, energetic, popular, athletic, good-looking, dramatic, and studious students it has ever had or will have.

ARTICLE III

Our personal bequests:

We, Bernice Bowman and Frances Blough, will our close friendship to Naida Jeffers and Norma Longenacher.

I, Donald Boyes, leave my desire to argue in P. A. D. class to Bernard W.

I, Hazel Feeman, leave my plumpness to Wreta Mace.

I, Robert Fetzer, leave my "bright sayings" to Bob Yarnell.

I, Eva Gantz, will my red hair to Ann Marko.

I, Frances Haley, leave my grade card to Sallyann and Shirley to fight over.

We, Max Bowman and Raymond Weahry, leave the privilege of sleeping in study hall to some sleepy juniors.

I, William Huffman, leave my aspirations to become the best baseball pitcher in the United States to Vernon Meyer.

I, Donald Keltz, will my lovely mop of curly black hair to Jack Allen.

I, William Knepp, will my way with the girls to William Davis.

I, Norma Kinch, leave my hearty laugh to Dorothy Johnson.

I, Harold Krabill, will my ability to play a violin to John E. Haley.

I, Jay Lehman, will my extraordinary dramatic talent to Junior Repp.

I, Bernice Meyer, will the writing of the next class will to some resourceful junior.

I, Ruth Miller, leave my study habits to Winifred Jeffers.

I, James Miracle, will my height to William Uher. He needs a little more.

I, Arthur Mumaw, will my frank, friendly nature to Frank Sacha.

I, Jack McGuff, leave my swinging walk to Ralph Krabill.

I, Gene McKelvey, leave some of my giggles to Andy Marko.

I, Irma Nash, will my blonde vivacity to Patty Reynolds.

I, Betty Perram, leave my wardrobe to some girl in need of pretty clothes.

I, Jack Plank, will my gracious manners to Armand Smith.

I, Zella Schell, bequeath all my brunette charms to Phyllis Fetzer.

I, Clayton Shankland, will my Chevrolet to Bob Clapp, so he can take Betty Zehner riding every night.

I, Junior Spitler, will my chemistry notebook to some unfortunate sophomore.

I, Charles Wolf, leave my weakness for "showing off" to Leroy Haley.

I, Bill Zehner, leave my ability to bluff the teachers to Robert Graf.

GUPPY SINGS A SONG - - - -

High School Songs

Onward, fellows, we must conquer
Fight for Creston High!
Brown and Gold expect a victory
Win for Creston High!
Honor, fame, and glory calling,
You must do your best.
So whate'er the contest
Win for Creston High!

Fight then, fellows, fight to conquer
Fight for Creston High!
Never weary in the contest,
Win for Creston High!
Though the battle go against you
You must stand and fight
So whate'er the contest
Win for Creston High!

Dear Old Creston High, which is ever nigh
To be our Counselor,
We will ever fight for a cause that's right
And keep our banner clean.
Take courage when you're losing
The victory's just ahead,
So on victory day, we'll be glad and gay
And to our school be true.

—Clayton Shankland.

Class Song

(Tune: "Believe Me If All Those Endearing Young Charms")

For twelve years we have studied and played with delight
For twelve years we have yearned for this night.
Oh the things that were taught by our teachers so dear
They'll remain with us year after year.
Oh these years have been short as we journeyed along,
But our joys we attest by this song.
And the friends we have gained through these beautiful days
Will remain in our minds for always.

Oh, the years are before us to use as we will
And success awaits those who work well.
Oh, our hopes and ambitions are strong and are right
And we'll find our way clear to the light.
Ah, success doth reach high to the realms of the great
And determined are we not to wait.
Though the roads are quite rough even harder we'll try
To arrive at that goal bye and bye.

—Frances A. Haley.

MEETING THE PEOPLE

Compliments of Stebbins Banking Co.

I wonder what this club business is— "Work or Play?"

Home Economics Club

The worthy aims of the Home Economics Club are to stimulate interest in the art of homemaking; to interest other girls in Home Economics; to work together in the improving of the Home Economics Department; to encourage the art of public speaking; to learn to cooperate with other girls in a self promoted activity; to practice working together in good fellowship; to stimulate personality development; and to establish high ideals of conduct.

The club had a very successful year and was closed by giving a farewell party to the Senior members of the club. President, Marva Grether; Vice-president, Iola Yarnell; Secretary, Clara Bartholomay; Treasurer, Betty Zehner; Reporter, Hazel Feeman.

Senior English Club

The English Club meets the first Friday of every month. Its purpose is to educate the members as to how to conduct a business meeting. The dues are $0.20 for one year. The officers are: President, Zella Scholl; Vice President, Frances Haley; Secretary, Harold Krabill. The programs are arranged by special committees appointed by Bernice Meyer, Gene McKelvey, and Arthur Mumaw. Miss McIlvaine tells us how it should be done and calls attention to our mistakes.

"Boy, some actresses!"

Senior Class Play

SPRING FEVER

Ed Burns, a chemistry student, has turned his room into a laboratory, where he experiments with a substitute for dynamite. Vic Lewis, an art student, sets up his dais and easel in the living room. Howard Brant, a senior, types frantically at a term paper on zoology. He will be graduated the next day if he can get the paper in on time. Lou Herron, a journalism student, who likes Ed, Anne Purcell, Howard's "heart-interest," and Vivian George, Vic's girl, keep popping in and out. There are also Anne's parents, and Howard's aunt, and Professor Bean, of the Zoology Department, and Dr. Dixon, the "Prexy" to enliven the day. And to say it's a lively day is putting it mildly.

Vic and Ed mistake Mr. Purcell, Anne's millionaire father, for an erratic artist's model Vic is expecting. They find it necessary to gag him and tie him to a hatrack, after taking off most of his clothes, putting a smock on him, and intimidating him with a few explosions from Ed's laboratory. This starts something, for Mr. Purcell, finally released, departs in great fury and withdraws his offer to present a new science building to the College.

Howard's Aunt Maude, who has put him through college and who will give him a trip to Europe when he is graduated, arrives unexpectedly, learns of his failure to pass his zoology course, and decides to do something about it. She poses as a famous zoologist, meets Professor Bean and begins her campaign.

The young people "put on an act"—and such an act!—to persuade Mr. Purcell to give the science building on condition that Howard is allowed to be graduated. It works—in a big way! Aunt Maude's plan is successful, too, in more ways than one. Howard will get both his diploma and his girl.

"LINDY LOU"

T. Timothy Tweedsome arrives at his Long Island estate where he is to be host to his fiancee, the Duchess of Londonberry. He finds that his niece, Lindy Lou, has invited three pretty girls to his home to train for a National Beauty Contest.

Lindy Lou has hired Dick Barry to train the girls and his friend Big Boy Roberts as gardener.

Blackstone posing as a movie producer and his secretary, Ethelburt, come to Silver Oaks, looking for star material.

Big Boy promises to marry Patricia or Prunella whomever is the winner of the prize in the beauty contest.

Timothy falls for every attractive girl who comes upon the scene. The Duchess arrives as the Spanish actress (in reality a G woman) is vamping Mr. Tweedsome.

The Duchess' jewels are stolen and Dick discovers that Blackstone and Ethelburt are the thieves. The Duchess forgives Timothy for all his flirtations. Dick wins first prize in the Beauty Contest which gives him the $5,000 he needs to marry Lindy Patsy wins second prize and the third is divided between Patricia and Prunella.

GUPPY, OUR COUNSELOR - - - -

The officers of the student council are as follows:

President—Clayton Shankland
Vice President—Marva Grether
Secretary—Sallyann Coleman
Treasurer—Robert Clapp

The purpose of the Student Council is to give the students a part in the government of the school.

Some of the functions of the Council are to set the dates for all High School parties and class plays and to appoint committees.

This year the Student Council elected a Bus Council, drew up a code of ethics for the School Buses and decided punishment for those persons violating these rules.

BASKETBALL GREETINGS

Here's a word from the coach. Read it!

The current basketball season proved to be one of the most interesting of recent years, with four lettermen reporting in a squad of eighteen at the opening of the season. These were: Captain James Miracle, center; Jay Lehman, forward; Jack Plank, guard; and Johnny Montgomery, guard. The other boys winning their awards for the first time this season were: Bob Graf, forward; Gene McKelvey, forward; and Bill Huffman, guard and center. The record of seven wins and five losses in league play, while not good, still had much merit. The team was always a threat for the best in the league.

From the standpoint of sportsmanship, scrap, and first half play, they were tops for me. There were but few exceptions when Creston didn't have the superior team the first half, running up a nice advantage or breaking even with the strongest opposition. However, the game didn't stop here and local fans found their hearts between their teeth for most of the second half of practically every game.

The most disappointing game of the season was the Chester affair and the most thrilling was the Fredericksburg game which we thought we had won, only to have it decided in their favor during the overtime. Oh, well! It was a lot of work and play for all of us and I only hope everyone got as much good from it as I did.

BASEBALL GREETINGS

The success of this year's baseball team will depend upon the effectiveness of our pitching and catching, as 75 percent of the defense relies on these positions. With the heaviest schedule in many years this makes quite a problem.

Six lettermen were included in a squad of nineteen which reported for baseball. They were: Jim Miracle, third base; Jay Lehman, shortstop; Johnny Montgomery, first base; Jack Plank, outfield; Bill Huffman, pitcher, infield; and Basil Perry, catcher.

Observations made of the games last fall indicate that there will be plenty of competition for some of the positions. Those who reported for the squad that played some in the games last fall are: Donald Keltz, catcher, Paul Meyer, Jack Allen, outfielders, and Art Repp, utility man.

The Right Appeal

Sometimes school representatives forget their job is one of educational guidance and become just solicitors. They talk of getting jobs instead of getting ready for jobs. They brag what expert job-getters their placements departments are. This appeal is a false one, designed to catch the unwary—those not aware of the facts.

Two factors determine whether the graduate of any school will get a job—ability and personality. Both are the product of the right kind of training—the kind of training you get at Wooster Business College, where teacher interest and attention is emphasized. In the small but well equipped school where individual attention is possible there is less chance of individual failure and discouragement.
